SHOW SUPPORT

Thanks to the generous support of sponsors and exhibitors, this year’s Ocean Renewable Energy Conference (OREC), in partnership with the Marine Energy Collegiate Competition, will feature the latest in technology innovation, new science, and cutting-edge information about industry development. Events are attended by respected leaders in government, academia, and industry and are a great place to network with peers and potential partners. Our wide range of sponsorship opportunities are designed to ensure the conference is accessible and representative of the many diverse stakeholders engaged in building this new industry.
